FOREWORD

Behind the Scenes

When we think of Nixon High School

We usually think of obvious things:

Get togethers, and ballgames, the junior-senior prom,
pep rallies and school plays.

How many of us realize what goes on

Behind the quiet brick and glass frame of NHS after the 3:45 exodus to the parking lots?

Look around NHS and you can always find people

Working, working ---

Getting out a last minute Pony Express,

Cleaning those rifles again and again,

Decorating the goal posts or practicing for a choir concert,

Band rehearsals, play rehearsals, teetering on ladders as they hang streamers to dress up the gym for a Friday Night Dance.

As days give way to night, and sometimes until night gives way to morning,

Day in, day out,

Year in, year out,

Behind the scenes someone is working.

We will carry the memories of the obvious symbols of Nixon High with us as we leave its campus for the last time,

But few of us will remember who put together these memories.

This year the W Bar Staff

Will depict in word and picture

Many of the people who have worked and played

Behind the scenes to build the school spirit and public image of Nixon High School.

This is our theme for '68.

To Roberto,

To a real

guy and which

met a long time ago

may you have every thing

and wish for and much love

God Bless you

me always

a friend

HAROLD YEARY

The W Bar Staff dedicates its yearbook to a man who is admired and held in high esteem not only in our own community but in the entire state of Texas. A loving father, an active church member, and a great school board president, Harold Yearly, we say thank you for a job you are doing so well with no remuneration except the satisfaction of serving the youth of Laredo.

LAREDO SCHOOL BOARD

THE BOARD GUIDES DISTRICT THROUGH A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Working together to establish and regulate the policies of a rapidly enlarging school system, the Board of Education of Laredo efficiently attends to the needs and problems of each school. Their hands are full at the monthly meetings and in-between-times as they are faced with the constant task of providing more classrooms and more teachers.

The Board of Education can look back on another very busy and very successful school year. Continued efforts from these men have been responsible for giving every student as excellent an education as he will accept.

Language Arts Create Background of Knowledge

Knowledge is gained by the use of language arts. Not only do we learn to recognize many phases of the English language, but we are also familiarized with the customs and tongues of our foreign neighbors. With the skilled guidance of the faculty, the students receive the instructions in the structure and use of languages required to prepare them for college.

Studies of Past and Present Provide for Future

The lives of all men are closely associated with social science. Each day a new fact of historical or governmental value is disclosed to every student of social science. In our classes we are given a clear conception of what can be avoided in the world situation in years to come. The mistakes of the past act as a guide for the future. Only with great appreciation of the subject can a student gain full value of its deep meaning and importance.

Teachers Lay Forth The Solid Foundation on Which N.H.S. Scholars Construct Their Futures

Buying a loaf of bread, building a bookshelf, playing a game of tennis—each of these depends in part upon the science of mathematics. In essence, mathematics is the science of organized thinking. Regardless of whether your occupation is engineering or housekeeping, your daily life revolves around the practical application of mathematics. Even as Mathematics is the basis of scientific creativeness, it also is an integral part in the life of the common man.

Science Encourages Original Thought

Science Holds The Key to The Future

Science is the key to the future for many students. It opens the door to many different fields in which men must meet great challenges. Only with an exceptional background in scientific progress would a person be able to meet these challenges. In the science class here at Nixon High School we are given an opportunity to gain the important basic knowledge needed to begin a scientific career.

Students Learn Modern Homemaking Techniques

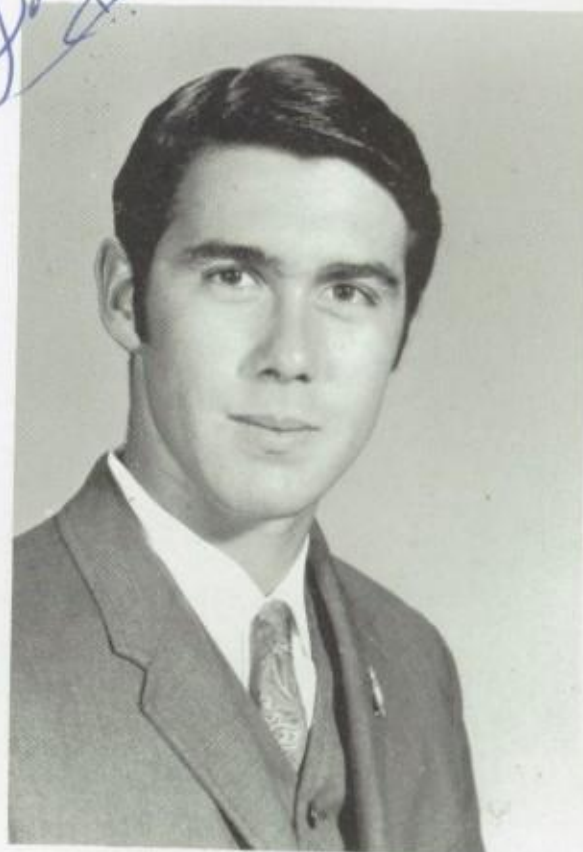

Homemaking courses are not only designed to help students live useful and satisfying lives in their homes and community in the future, but also prove an aid to students in their everyday lives. Courses in foods and clothing and family living are offered at Nixon.

Making use of the sewing machine and other sewing equipment, girls in clothing classes learn about fitting and clothing construction, wardrobe planning, dress design, selection of fabric, and decorative finishes. They also study grooming and personality, care, repair and packing of clothing and shopping for clothes.

In their classroom, a model kitchen, girls are taught about nutrition, meal planning and food preparation and preservation, kitchen planning, and marketing, etiquette, entertaining and food customs are also studied.

Science Courses Bring Challenges to Students

Looking into a miniature world through a microscope, dissecting, studying the human body, and learning about the weather are just a few of the things a student will discover in the science classroom.

At Nixon students may select the following from this field: general science, biology, chemistry, physics, advanced biology and physiology.

A Nixon student develops an understanding of the basic concepts in each field of science.

Mathematics Most Vital Aid in Everyday Life

Of all the subjects required of Nixon students, mathematics is one of the most essential since it teaches the student to use logical reasoning and aids him in solving everyday problems. Each year new methods of problem solving are adopted and the vast field of mathematics is broadened. Students are constantly reminded of the link which lies between mathematics and everyday life.

Nixon offers two years of algebra, plane geometry, Trigonometry, Modern Analysis and Analytical geometry.

English Classes Study Literature, Composition

The study of literature challenges students at Nixon High. Literature appreciation and comprehension are goals for better understanding of basic literary techniques. Besides studying English and American literature, students help build their vocabulary through vocabulary exercises and themes.

During the freshman and sophomore years, students study sentence structure, parts of speech, and composition. Also a survey study is made of all types of literature. Juniors continue studying grammar and mechanics. In composition, the length of writing is increased. American literature is also studied to make students aware of the development of American writings and authors.

Social Studies Courses Relate Past to Present

History, we are told, repeats itself. Today's events are often merely repetitions of past events. Therefore, to understand the present we must have an understanding of the past. Relating the past to the present is the goal of Nixon's social studies classes.

Four subjects—American history, Texas history, World history and civics are offered to Nixon students.

Whether lined with campaign posters, or maps of the United States, the social studies classrooms reveal the work taking place there. Mock battles and trials, heated debates, panel discussions, term papers and special reports are just some of the many projects participated in by social studies students.

Physical Conditioning Main Purpose of P.E.

Every pupil who is not physically disabled is required to take at least three years of physical education daily. Exception to this regulation is that pupils in music classes, library science, VOE and DE do not take physical education.

Physical education for girls consists of a variety of individual and team sports, conditioning exercises, dancing, and health education. Team sports include basketball, softball, volleyball, tennis, swimming and archery.

Physical education for boys is a daily activity. Sports are conducted both indoors and out. Individual and group activities are included in the program.

Library Expands as Books Are Acquired

The Library, one of the most valuable departments in the school, is used constantly by both students and teachers. In its fourth year, the Nixon library has acquired approximately 11,415 books, 8 tapes, 114 transparencies, 103 records and 113 film strips. To acquire more books so that there will be enough to serve the students efficiently—that is the goal of the library now.

A PRODUCTION OF AMINO ACIDS UNDER A PRIMITIVE, SIMULATED EARTH ENVIRONMENT

GENERAL DISCUSSION

THE ENVIRONMENT OF THE EARTH, WHEN IT WAS FIRST FORMED, WAS SIMULATED. THEN THIS ENVIRONMENT WAS TESTED TO SEE IF AMINO ACIDS, LIFE'S BASIC CONSTITUENTS, COULD BE PRODUCED UNDER THESE PRIMITIVE CONDITIONS.

PROCEDURE

THE APPARATUS IS FILLED WITH 90 PERCENT METHANE THEN THE METHANE IS EVACUATED OUT WITH AN OIL DIFFUSION PUMP AND THE ABOVE IS REPEATED TWICE. THEN THE PROPER GAS ATMOSPHERE IS LET IN UNTIL THE HG LEVEL ON THE MANOMETER IS 50CM THEN THE WATER AND PROPER CHEMICALS ARE LET IN THROUGH THE SIDE FUNNEL. THE BOILING PROCESS IS NOW STARTED. WHEN THE WATER BOILS, THE ENERGY SOURCE IS TURNED ON. THE EXPERIMENT IS ALLOWED TO RUN FOR A WEEK. AFTER 72 HOURS INTO THE EXPERIMENT, THE REMAINING GASES ARE PUMPED OUT AND AGAIN THE REDUCING ATMOSPHERE IS LET IN. AFTER 56 MORE HOURS INTO THE EXPERIMENT, EVERYTHING IS HALTED. THE COMPOUNDS IN THE BOILING FLASK AND U-TUBE ARE TAKEN OUT SEPARATELY TO EACH. $HgCl_2$ IS ADDED TO PREVENT THE GROWTH OF ORGANISMS. THEN EACH SAMPLE IS SEPARATED BY ION EXCHANGE AND THEN IDENTIFIED BY GAS AND PAPER CHROMATOGRAPHY.

EXPERIMENTS

ON EACH OF FIVE DAYS, THE TESLA COIL WAS LEFT ON FOR THREE 3-HR PERIODS FOR EACH EXPERIMENT. EXPERIMENT I: THE HEAT SOURCE WAS LEFT ON TWELVE HOURS EACH DAY. EXPERIMENT II: THE HEAT SOURCE WAS ON AN HOUR AND OFF AN HOUR, FOUR TIMES DURING THE DAY.

ION EXCHANGE

IN THIS ION EXCHANGE THE COMPOUNDS ARE POURED THROUGH DOWEX 50W(H⁺) ION EXCHANGE RESIN, A VERY ACIDIC RESIN, WHICH ATTACHES THE BASES AND AMINO ACIDS TO ITS MOLECULES AND LETS THE ACIDS PASS THROUGH. THEN A STRONGER BASE, NH_4OH , IS PASSED THROUGH, AND THE RESIN TAKES IT AND LETS THE WEAK BASE AND AMINO ACIDS GO ON. THEN THE BASES AND AMINO ACIDS ARE PASSED THROUGH DOWEX 2X(OH⁻) ION EXCHANGE RESIN.

Goodbye!

Day by day, week by week, month by month, a school year passes so quickly that we wonder where it could have gone. In its place are the memories each student has of one important phase of his life.

For the seniors, this school year is made of laughter, gently sprinkled with tears. It is a last football game, a last prom, a last drill, a last long look at twelve years that went by somehow too fast.

For the underclassmen, it is merely a passing of time; another notch on the long road to the time when they too will be seniors.

In reality, an ordinary school year is made up of football games, pep-rallies, parties, tests, band practice, assemblies, basketball games, skits, student council elections, proms and banquets.

But at Nixon High School, a school year is not ordinary—It is spiced with honors; it is centered around pride—and behind the scenes the work goes on.

You're the greatest, sweetest, and most

Never forget the great times we
